

Illegal Muslim Prayers in the Streets of France

In July 2009, in the heart of Paris, his beloved town, the author witnessed thousands of Muslims taking over 4 streets, and praying on the pavement.

Shocked by this sight, the author bought a hidden camera in October 2009, and went week after week in the 18th district of Paris, called "Barbès", to videotape those illegal Muslim prayers, which take place there each Friday, only 500 meters away from Montmartre and the famous church called "Sacré-Coeur" ("Sacred-Heart"), visited by many tourists.
